You're in for the Time of Your Life!

The world's toughest adventure game is the DUNGEONS & DRAGONS game! New this summer.

Dungeons & Dragons® GAME

Perilous Journeys and Heroic Adventures...

In a dark corner of the room, a woman sits alone at a table. Her armor and broadsword, glimmering in the fire, indicate she is a mercenary, a soldier of fortune. This is Alias of the Azure Bonds!

Her medieval world is filled with courageous warriors, wizards, and elves. And the more heroes (like you), the better—because the new DUNGEONS & DRAGONS® game is filled with haunted castles, caverns, and mysterious dungeons!

Once inside, you'll discover incredible magic, fame, and treasure... But beware, the chambers are also filled with horrible monsters. And here is your ultimate challenge: can you beat the dragons and escape unharmed?

If so, join millions of other players in this great adventure, and play the new DUNGEONS & DRAGONS game. It is fun to learn and easy to play! Unlike any game you've ever played, it takes you on heroic adventures where you rely on your imagination and teamwork to survive!

Fun from the moment you open the box, the game is filled with maps, adventure cards, dice, heroes, and a huge dungeon filled with monsters. So call some friends over—and start your adventure today!

The new DUNGEONS & DRAGONS game is for two or more players. You can find it at Toys R Us, Waldenbooks, B. Dalton, and hobby stores everywhere!

Okay, Letter Number One...

Dear Dave,
I was wondering, in MIGHTY MOUSE #1 we saw that cats were bigger than mice, and in MIGHTY MOUSE #5 we saw that Strong Man, a man, was the same size as Mighty, yet in MIGHTY MOUSE #6 we saw people that were bigger than cats. How can this be?

Fanny boy
Basement of
Lou's Big World O' Comics
Los Bobos, KY 24033

Fanny, what you didn't know was that in all the scenes in MIGHTY MOUSE #5, Strong Man was really REALLY far away.
Letter Number Two..

Dear Dave,
Has Mighty Mouse ever got so mad at a cat that he threw it into outer space?

Lynda Richman
Elk Grove, CA
Age: 8

Let's have Mighty field that one, Lynda...
DAVE: Mighty, have you ever thrown a cat into outer space?
MIGHTY: Well, Dave — Er...uh...
DAVE: Hal, I can't hear the mouse...Is his mike on?
MIGHTY: I...uh...
DAVE: Just kidding, folks. Letter Number [redacted]...

Dear Dave-Dude,
Me and my most excellent friend have just finished a truly triumphant trip where we sampled the MIGHTY MOUSE Limited Series. Most outstanding art and story, dudes! Truly ahead of its time! But that goes without saying! Sorry about the bogus fate which befell your first Marvel series (most heinous), Mighty-Dude! Party on! See you in '92!

B.S. Preston, Esq.
T. "T." Logan
San Dimas, CA
8/29/92

What the hey...?

Dear Dave,
Who's stronger, Mighty Mouse or Wonder Man?

Ginger
(address withheld
upon request)

Well, Ginger, let's see. One of those characters is losing a regular comic book, while the other is gaining one. What do you think?

Dear Dave,
Please tell Mr. Mouse that we tried to fix his book, but the job was even beyond our scope.

John Porter
c/o Damage Control
New York, NY 10010

Hey, those last three letters were shameless plugs for new books! Who wrote this stuff, Nicieza and Skolnick? Next thing you know they'll be plugging that new girl comic, SWEET XVI!
Letter Number Six..

Dear Dave,
Could you please stop those guys at Marvel from doing comic book parody issues in MIGHTY MOUSE? I hate them. I hate them. I hate them. As if issue #1 weren't enough, we then had issue #3, #4, #5, and #6, followed by a three part Bat-Bat: Year One story in issues #7, #8, and #9. Stop it, already! No more parodies of lame DC and Marvel comics!

I Ratareader
2 Much Caffeine Ave.
NY, NY 10016

Hal, can we roll the clip of the cover for the next issue of MIGHTY MOUSE (assuming there is a next issue)?

Ah, yes, the "Snailien Costume" parody. Well, you've got to give Mighty points for, ah, consistency...
Letter Number Seven...

Dear Dave,
I've read every letters page so far, and readers have so far praised almost every creative aspect of this fine title. But no one has mentioned those unsung heroes, the letterer and the colorist!
The letters on MIGHTY MOUSE have just been fantastic...straight, clean, alphabetic, and very, well, letter-y. And those colors! Red, blue, yellow, and of course, lots and lots of muddy brownish grey [redacted]
I think we should all give a standing ovation to these fine artists who have not only increased our enjoyment of MIGHTY MOUSE, but who are probably the reason the title held on as long as it did.

Brad K. Joyce
Evan Skolnick
The Typesetting Room
Marvel Comics
New York, NY 10016

So much for being unsung, eh, Polly?
Letter Number Eight...

Dear Dave,
It's me again. I've read half of issue #10 so far, and I had to write in. I'm confused. In the first few pages we saw a flashback from one year ago, when MIGHTY MOUSE the cartoon was on. Then we saw a flashback from a slightly later time frame, Mighty working in a fast food fish shop, after Pearl had sold her factory and before she bought the TV station, placing it in between the TV show and the comic. Then we saw a scene in the present, set after issue #9. My question is, which of these three time frames did the "pause scene" of page 2 appear in? Or is this a different frame of time entirely?

Fanny Boy
Basement of
Lou's Big World O' Comics

Fanny, great to hear from you again. Now get a life.

Hi, Heroes

It had to happen! It's one of the most exciting new projects in years! Here's how it started

Whenever I'm at a ComicCon or any place where there's a gaggle of frantic fans, I'm always asked questions like "What's Todd McFarlane really like?" or "How does Tom DeFalco manage to supervise so many titles?" or "Is it true that Chris Claremont's really a mutant?" etc. It seems that readers can't get enough information about their favorite comicbook people

Well, since I always aim to please, I discussed this subject with a few other comicbook freaks and we came up with a dynamite idea . . .

Anyone who owns a video cassette player will now have a fantastic opportunity to see and learn about the world's most popular comicbook creators! I'm planning to interview most of the top talents in the biz in a series of collector's-item videos, which you'll be able to get at your favorite comicbook shop or video store!

In fact, by the time you read this, the first two videos may already be on sale! We're calling the series "THE COMICBOOK GREATS." Each video will be an in-depth, full-length interview with one of comicdom's top talents. You'll have a rare opportunity to see exactly how your favorite comicbook greats work while I hit 'em with the questions you yourself might want to ask. And for once I shut up long enough to let the other guys do most of the talking!

Of course, there's one serious problem! After seeing themselves on these fantastic cassettes, our video stars might give up comics and go into show biz! But we've got an ace in the hole! If Romita heads for Hollywood, we'll teach Schwarzenegger how to draw!

So, till The Punisher buys a Barbie doll — see ya on video!

Excelsior!

Stan Lee

It's May, so those young scallawags up at Marvel Comics thought it would be a hoot to have somebody named May write this month's Bullship Barnacles Page. So, purely at random, they selected me, May Parker, beloved aunt of Peter Parker, that well-known photo-journalist. Since making obstacles isn't taking up all my time anymore, I accepted the job (although, to be honest, I haven't read a comic book since the Yellow Kid was wearing yellow diapers.)

They told me I could write about whatever struck my fancy, but since it's been some time since I've had my fancy struck, I thought I'd tell you about my trip into the city two months back. I was strolling through Manhattan, looking for that special wool I need to knit some new sweaters, and I saw that nice young Mark Gruenwald, who is Executive Editor of Marvel Comics, and, who, by the way, is one of the most eligible bachelors in the city. Mark was holding a video camera, and was filming something he called the Marvel Talk Video.

The video will be shown at all the major comics conventions this year, and will feature all your favorite Marvel editors talking about their upcoming projects. But here's the peachy part — this video will feature the Marvel crew in their off hours so you'll get a glimpse of their personal lives. For instance, Hal Yaxley will be seen performing with his group, the Musicians, at a jazz club. Carl Potts will be fishing. Jim Salicrup will be seen at Troma film studios, home of Marvel's newest comic book, the TOXIC AVENGER.

As I continued to walk around the city, I saw a bunch of Marvel employees boarding a bus for a big ski trip. Now, I myself haven't skied in years, though in my day, I was quite a "bombargen," as they say. I also was quite a dancer — I could do a Lindy like nobody's business, and nobody could touch my fox trot

Why, with my husband, Ben, God rest his soul, I used to do a Charleston that would leave you gasping for air!

Oh, ahem, I seem to have strayed from the topic. Now, where was I? Oh, yes, the Marvel ski trip. It took place in March. About twenty Marvel persons headed up to the Berkshires in West Massachusetts, where they had a sociable, clean, outdoorsy experience together. It seems when four Marvel staff people — Sarra Mossoff, Rob Tokar, Kevin Kobasic, and Karen Berry — went to the Berkshires in January, they had such a good time, those rapscallions decided to go back, and bring their friends with them!

Of course, skiing season is far behind us, and we're now entering into warmer weather, so you know what that means. Yes, it's time to start up a new season of bridge tournaments. I understand we're also entering softball season, so you can be sure the Marvel softball team is breaking out the pigskin and preparing for another big year. Young Evan Skolnick, who last year led Marvel to one of their first winning seasons in years, does not know if he's going to manage the team again. I wouldn't blame him if he didn't. The responsibilities of the position look like they've contributed to his premature hair loss, the poor boy!

What's that? Oh. All right, I've been asked to mention some comic book conventions. Now, myself, I've never been to such a thing, but I do attend a couple of bake-offs every year and I imagine they're much the same, except you can't eat comics. I have a prize-winning cherry cobbler, which Anne Watson says is super-scrumptious. Come over sometime, and I'll give you a taste. Anyhow, here's what I'm supposed to tell you about the conventions:

The Chicago Comicon is June 28-30. For information write 1219 West Devon, Chicago, IL 60660 or call (312) 743-4493. Guests will include Chris Claremont, Mark Bagley, Jim DeFalco, and Mark Gruenwald.

The San Diego Comicon is July 4-7. You may write P.O. Box 128458, San Diego, CA 92112-8458, or call (619) 491-2089, if you wish. Guests include Jim Lee, Chris Claremont, Jack Kirby, Fabian Nicieza, and Paul Ryan.

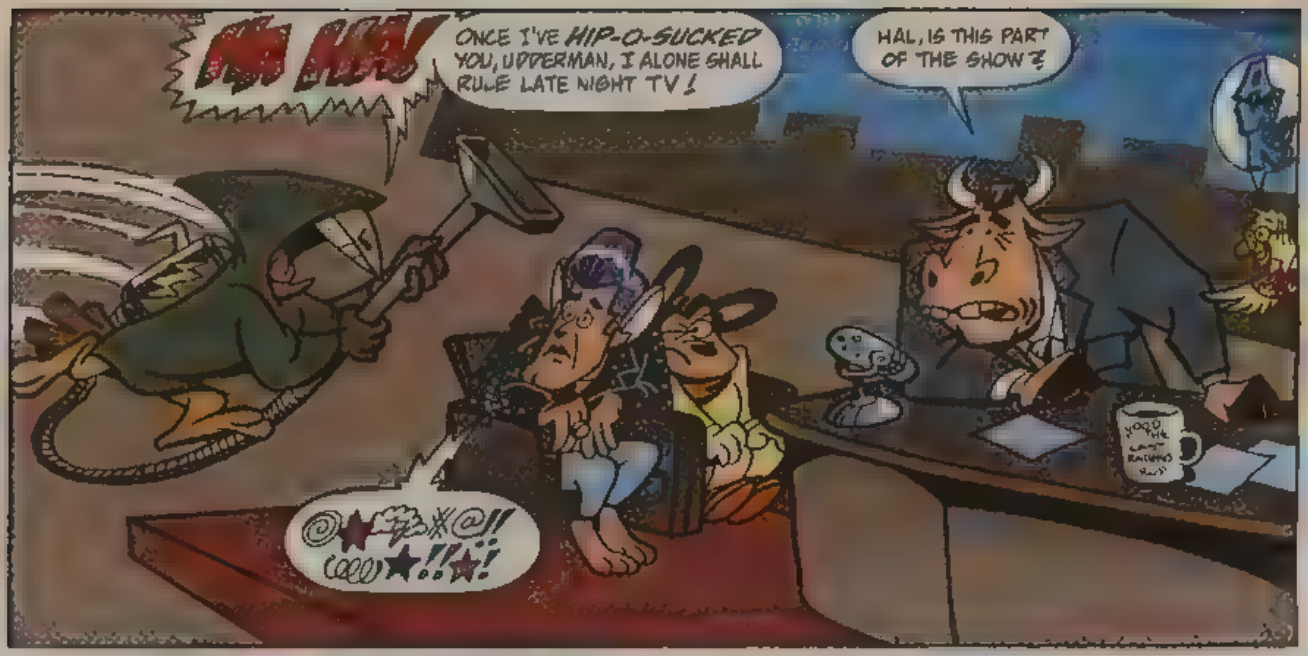
The Atlanta Comics Expo is July 12-14. Write Box 47696, Atlanta, GA 30362, or call (404) 925-2813 for details, if you're of a mind. Guests include Frank Miller, Al Williamson, Mark Bagley, Wayne Vansant, Ted McKeever, Bob Harras, and Terry Kavanaugh.

The Dallas Fantasy Fair is July 19-21. Write P.O. Box 820488, Dallas, TX 75382, or call (214) 350-4305 if you want to know more. Guests include Carl Potts, Mike Rockwitz, Ron Frenz, and Rob Tokar.

The Atlanta Fantasy Fair is July 26-28. Write 4175 Elton Ct. Lithonia, GA 30058, or call (404) 985-1230. Guests include Bob Budiansky, Alex Saviuk, Mark Bagley, Renée Witterstaetter, and Marie Javins.

My goodness! That took up space. I guess I can stop soon. I hope you enjoyed my Bullfrog Bugaloos Page. I'm glad I had the chance to write for a Marvel Comic, although I admit I know next to nothing about comic books. Marvel publishes those books about that awful Spider-Man, that much I know.

Tell next May, this is May Parker leaving you with a funny saying I heard a bobby-soxer tell his chum, "If I don't see you in the mailroom, I'll see you in the spring!"



HA HA!
ONCE I'VE HIP-O-SUCKED YOU, UDDERMAN, I ALONE SHALL RULE LATE NIGHT TV!

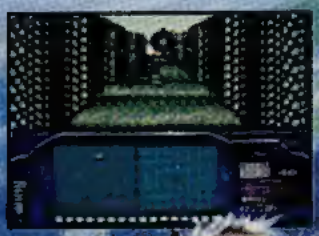
HIT 'EM HIGH.

Konami® unleashes a combination all-out aerial assault and gut churning ground blitz for your NES.™ Its name: Laser Invasion.™ The target: Sheik Toxic Moron and his earth shattering TechnoScortch Missiles.

You'll pilot the Laser Invasion Helijet, an air slicing armor plated powerhouse ready to fire your choice of weapons. You must bank, dive and hover, employing advanced combat techniques against unrelenting waves of airborne enemies.



Then land your bird of prey and charge the Sand Storm Command Center, home of the 3-D Confusion Maze. To get there, pounce on divisions of Pharaoh Phantom tanks, chiller choppers, and an army of grenade throwing, machine gun toting terrors.

Between battles, your life hinges on your own tactical decisions. Gather enough skin saving objects, ammo and intelligence and you'll penetrate the Sheik's fortress of doom. But there won't be much time to do your dirty work. So let the invasion begin.

And now zap $10 off LaserScope™ Voice Command Optical Targeting Headset with a rebate offer inside every Laser Invasion package.
